

Becoming a Sexbot

"Please read my short story and ask yourself if you are going to fill in the submission form on the following page."

"My life became a bit boring. Had several relationships and none of them were satisfying. The boys were nice, that wasn't the point, but they just didn't take me as I wanted them to take it. They kept talking about respect a woman and be nice for here and bla, bla, bla. I just wanted to be owned by them. Being their toy. I wanted them to think the whole day of me. Being in their minds."

"Of course the internet helped me finding my final goal. The goal which always has been there. Somewhere hidden in my deepest dreams. A forum of women and also men which encountered the same problems as I discovered in relationships. Together with a Japanese company they found their ultimate goal: they let themselves rebuild into a Sexbot. There were a lot of possibilities. They had amazing results if their brains as being a Sexbot was connected by interlink directly to their partners brain. Some of them were totally submissive others were controlling their Nonbot partners. Others were always online with each other, as a Nonbot and a Sexbot continuously playing with each others mind and body. There were even couples which let both of them being transformed into a Sexbot."

"Since I knew that this possibility existed I couldn't stop thinking about it. My latest lover was unaware of this. I wanted to own him and wanted that he owned me. I decided that he should be the one which would rule my life, if he agreed or not. When he went on a business trip for a week I submitted the form and really they came and get me in a day for transformation."

"The external on/off button I found marvellous: that he could just switch me off like that remembered me of my earlier dreams of being somebody his doll. Of course I choose to stay female, but I read stories on the net with different opinions. I preferred to stay humanoid with a bit of latex integrated as skin: just latex crotch boots and latex gloves as a permanent skin item. As voice I choose the computer animated. After all I would become a Sexbot and should behave as one, not being to human again."

"Finally my deepest wish: being permanently in his mind and he in my mind. 24 hours a day interlinked. In his fantasy and wherever he is or what he is doing. I decided that they would deliver me as a present for him when he returns. Of course that includes a special implanting chip in his brain, but he will not notice it. The company will arrange that. And when he comes home I will be there. With a small note: Switch me on....."

"Wouldn't you submit ! Fill in the form today. Tomorrow you will be one of us !
