

Surprising Transformations

During my summer evening walks in the country site it is sometimes remarkable what you can see in nature. Especially in your own neighborhood.

I always carry my camera with me, you never know what you encounter. Like the three pictures in this publication made of Sophie.

I hadn't seen her for a few years now. Her name is Sophie and is just living a few streets from my house. Gorgeous girl. Nicely shaped and beautiful hair. When I met her at the waterside at the old pond, just North of our village, my eyes really popped when I saw her packed in beautiful tight fitting latex. "Good evening Sophie, what a pleasant surprise to see you over here and dressed so nicely". "Thank you, long time not seen" Sophie said. "Yes indeed and I regret this because your body looks astonishing in latex". Sophie smiled a bit shy. She replied to me that I wasn't looking to bad either.

"What have you been doing since we met last time", I asked. "Oh" she replied, "I have been working with genetics in my own company". My company is specialised in transformations. I like to take my work at home and I like transformations. Do you want to see an example of one which I call the Reptile Transformation?". I stumbled "You mean that you can transform yourself by genetics?". "Oh yes" she said. "It is not a big event. Just simply drink a substrate. It will mix into your blood and you can switch it on or off by your own mind. I just want to enjoy this pond with one of my nice transformations. Do you want to see it or do you even want to join it?" She asked. "Well", I answered, "If it doesn't bother you I can always join a good transformation party" I Joked. More serious now she said "The bottle with substrate is standing over there. If you want to follow just swallow". She looked straight at me. Suddenly a reptile tongue came out of her mouth and she started to transform into something unbelievable, while still looking into my eyes. This transformation made my body shiver. She sat there for a moment and then slide into the pond's water. She winked me to follow. Well who could stand against forces of nature with such a nice creature like Sophie winking to you. It is always nice to follow your natural instinct.

The substrate didn't taste as worse as it looked like. The water was a bit cold, but Sophie did know ways to fully compensate that....

And again I experienced a nice evening in nature.
